If you wish, you may reserve online for Extended Day stay for the day he/she attends this class for an additional $5 (Prepaid to DBP), and your child will be picked up from and returned to the Extended Day classroom for carpool pickup. If you are interested in enrolling, please pay Mrs. Paula Costello electronically via VENMO (No Checks, Cash, or Money Orders are accepted) and send in this completed Registration Form to the DBP office in your child's zipper pouch, before the start of Enrichment session. There will be no online instruction during Emergency school closings, monies will be prorated/refunded for those classes not held within a session for COVID-19 closings.

Why should your child be enrolled in a cooking enrichment program? (None of the recipes are repeated throughout the school year)

Your child will learn and have lots of fun while enhancing his/her creativity, literacy, math, science, and small motor skills through enjoyable hands-on cooking activities. Your child will receive a class recipe book at the end of each session of all their fun edible creations of each week during the session.

As "our young chef" cooks up fun creations, he/she will also practice valuable early math skills such as measuring like filling a cup of milk, counting in whole and half teaspoons/tablespoons, identifying ingredients, sorting ingredients, sequencing events, stacking dishes, telling time, and identifying shapes and sizes. Your child will increase their strength and endurance such as learning to mix, measure, and mash as they. Your child will learn science skills such as chemistry, cause/effect, and temperature. Your child will enhance his/her small motor skills/hand-eye coordination. Your child will enhance his/her literacy skills by learning cooking terminology, listening to stories, songs, poems, recognizing numbers, symbols, and words. Your child will gain emotional strength such as self-confidence by completing a task and eating it. Your child will learn early math skills counting, measuring; sequencing events, time. Your child will enhance his/her strength & endurance through stirring, rolling, etc.

Your child will listen to a story from a popular children's book, we will sing a song, or read poem, which will introduce the week's theme tying it together with a fun, delicious, hands-on cooking activity for that day as we eat our creation (what the children make).

Occasionally, we will have a special taste test to introduce your children to new, healthy food, and even the fussiest eaters will eat their own creations.
